was not identified at the meeting as having been prepared by Sidartojo, but as a message from the North Sumatra SBKB.

3. The other speeches at the meeting were of a non-political nature and dealt mainly with the history, organization and aims of the SBKB.
4. A letter was circulated at the meeting which protested the arrest of D. Triono, head of the SBKB in Serang on 15 August 1961, and of K. Werdojo and other members of Parliament. The letter referred to similar protests by SORBI, Pukun Tani Indonesia (RTI), Sarekat Buruh Perkebunan Republik Indonesia (SARBUPRI) and the Sarekat Buruh Pertjetakan Indonesia (SBPI). The letter states that these protests are made because the arrests were anti-national and anti-democratic and calls on the people, workers, farmers, youth and women to support these protests.
5. No photographs were taken at the celebration because no funds were available for this purpose. The SBKB attempted to raise R 4,000 for the occasion by collecting R 5 from each of its 800 members, but only 100 persons contributed.
